AND THE NUMBER ONE REASON TO ATTEND THE TOPS SPRING AUCTION…

1 You’ve already saved the date, hired the sitter, and reserved the tickets. (You haven’t? Well, there’s still time. Contact Ellen Markman at 329-1205.)

MESSAGE FROM THE PRINCIPAL

Welcome back from Spring Break. The flowers are blooming, the days are longer and sunny, and the students have informed me that we have only 46 days before the end of school—but who’s counting?

WASL testing is happening at TOPS. Please remember to avoid appointments for your student during testing. It is very important to see that students get a good night’s sleep, eat breakfast, and come to school on time. We are not able to make overhead announcements or call classrooms with messages during testing time. Thanks so much for your cooperation.

Our Auction is soon approaching. Many parents and staff are putting a lot of energy into acquisitions and planning. TOPS counts on this event being a major fundraiser each year. It is wonderful and amazing to see the fantastic items that our parents solicit. Your dedication and generosity is appreciated!

Middle School Track and Volleyball are in full swing.

JUNE TOPSNews Deadline
Tuesday, May 16. Submissions to topsnewsletter@gmail.com
ABOUT THE OUTRAGEOUS PUBLISHING SERVICE

Welcome to the eighth newsletter of the 2005-06 school year. Jamie Flaxman and Ann Simonson edit, Cindy Suzumura handles photos, design, and layout, and Toby Harris gets it mailed off to you. Don Zemke provides many of our photos. G & H Printing prints the newsletter.

We need your submissions: calendar additions, classroom news and news from the larger community, faculty notes, committee reports, opinions, profiles, compliments, congratulations, children’s art, photos, and anything else significant to the TOPS community.

Submit your contributions by email to topsnewsletter@gmail.com or to the newsletter box in the main office. Please send photos to csuzumura@mindspring.com. The deadline for the June issue is May 16. Would you like to edit or otherwise help with our newsletter? Newcomers welcome. Please contact Jamie and Ann at topsnewsletter@gmail.com.

TOPS NEWSLETTER DESIGN AND LAYOUT

Cindy Suzumura is looking for someone who can either share the job of producing the newsletter every other month, or who might be willing to take the job over. Must know how to use page layout software, either Adobe InDesign or QuarkXpress. This is a great opportunity to contribute to the TOPS community – Call Cindy at 632-9116 or email csuzumura@mindspring.com if interested.

TOPS NEWSLETTER BULK MAIL MANAGER

Be in charge of the 400-piece bulk mailing of our wonderful newsletter! Do you like details? How about chatting with another TOPS parent while you perform repetitive tasks, or watching TV while doing repetitive tasks? You can also be among the first to read the newsletter each month! All you have to do is seal, label, sort, and count newsletters. Then you pay a visit to the lovely Stanford Center School District mailroom down in Soho and voila – we parents get our newsletters! Personal training provided by Toby Harris, experienced bulk mailer and TOPS parent. Call (634-3951) or email (tojj@earthlink.net) Toby Harris if interested.

TOPS HISTORICAL SOCIETY REPRESENTATIVE

Maintain the TOPS Archives and/or write monthly articles for the newsletter on TOPS history. Next year will be my last year as a TOPS parent and I’d like to pass on the TOPS treasure trove. It’s helpful if you have file organizing ability or interest, knowledge of preservation or interest, and curiosity. We could do it together next year. It can be as many or as few (within reason) hours as you’d like. Call (634-3951) or email (tojj@earthlink.net) Toby Harris if interested.

NATIONAL HISTORY DAY REGIONAL CONTEST WINNERS

By Tom O’Connor, 7th/8th Grade Social Studies Teacher

A big congratulations should go out to the following students who competed in the National History Day Regional Contest and won a variety of awards:

- Miranda Price, Wangari Mathaai: Trials of Justice: 2nd Place in Individual Paper Category, will compete in State Competition on May 6th, won a $50 prize for unique research on Women’s History.
- Hannah Merril, Tinker v. Des Moines: Taking a Stand for Student Rights: 3rd Place in Individual Paper Category, will compete in the State Competition.
- Lindsay Pickering and Jacqueline Robinson, Billie Holiday and Strange Fruit: 2nd Place in Group Documentary Category, will compete in the State Competition.
- Joe Markman, The French Resistance: 3rd Place in Individual Documentary Category, will compete in the State Competition.

These two exhibits will be displayed at the History House in Fremont for their focus on local and state history. Special Honors for:

- Maya Cohon and Maddy LaPatra, Saving the Pike Place Market: Group Exhibit.
- Mika Tanagi and Maria Young, The No No Boys: Group Exhibit.

TEACHER APPRECIATION WEEK IS MAY 8-12

DON’T FORGET TO GIVE OUR TOPS TEACHERS AN EXTRA THANK YOU THIS WEEK!
SITE COUNCIL REPORT

APRIL 5, 2006

By Scott Winter

PRINCIPAL’S REPORT

Clara Scott reviewed some of the upcoming school events and activities including the WASL testing for grades 3 through 8 beginning on Tuesday, April 18. TOPICS for April 6 & 7 were based around a stewardship theme. A number of organizations participated in the TOPICS including REI, UW Earth Day Club, and Seattle P-Patch. First grade teacher Leslie Nilan broke her wrist in two places as a result of a fall at Skate King on March 31. The 1st and 2nd graders had a poetry festival on April 4 & 6 and the 1st graders held a diversity parade on April 6. The 8th graders have received their high school assignments. Ms. Scott reviewed the placement numbers for some of the schools.

FUNDRAISING

Ellen Markman reported that preparations for the auction are going well. She also noted that a new TOPS t-shirt has been designed and will be on sale at events leading up to and during the auction.

DRAMA

Linda Korbus announced that the elementary school play will be 101 Dalmations! There was an excellent turnout for auditions, which were completed on April 5. Performances will be at 7:00 p.m. on May 19 and 20. There was some discussion around the possibility of holding an additional performance for another school or organization.

TREASURER REPORT

An updated budget was distributed and reviewed. A number of clarifications were discussed.

SPECIAL AUCTION ITEM

Three proposals for this year’s Special Auction Item were presented and discussed. The first was to use the money to create a staff excellence/professional development fund. The Building Leadership Team would administer the fund over a period of two to three years. A second proposal was to apply the money in support of the new incoming reading specialist by purchasing materials and possibly increasing the percentage FTE of the position. The final proposal was to distribute an equal share of the money raised to each teacher/classroom.

The pros and cons of each proposal were discussed at length. Finally, it was agreed that the Special Auction Item for this year will be a staff excellence/professional development fund. The Building Leadership Team will work with school staff to further define how the fund will be administered.

CSJ CORNER

Welcome to the CSJ corner where you can look each month to find out what the Coalition for Social Justice has planned for its monthly meeting the first Thursday of each month from 6:30-8:00 pm. Note that the final two CSJ meetings will not be at the TOPS library—see information below.

CSJ is a group of parents, staff, and administrators who work together in support of the stated mission and vision of TOPS. The purpose of our work is to educate ourselves and the school community about issues of academic equity, cultural diversity, and social justice as they affect our school and the broader community.

MAY 4TH:

Screening of People Like Us—We will preview a documentary about social class in America which will potentially be one of the films included in the CSJ Film Festival next school year. The CSJ is planning a film festival of 3 or 4 films to be shown next year. Popcorn and other refreshments will be available and a discussion will follow each film. Please note that the May CSJ meeting will be at the home of Sheri Toussaint. Call Sheri at 322-6374 for directions.

JUNE 1ST:

Final Meeting and Celebration—This final meeting will be a BBQ potluck at the home of Bonnie Cech. If you have been meaning to check out CSJ, come join us to find out about what is planned for next year. Events will include a film festival and speakers series. We are still seeking your input on topics of interest related to Anti-Bullying, Learning Differences, and Differences among Families. Call Bonnie at 206-323-3322 for directions. Children are welcome.
Earth Day TOPICS in April brought TOPS stewards' attention to all kinds of outdoor issues and subjects including birds, bugs, global warming, growing food, water sheds, and “leaving no trace” in the great outdoors. Many parents and U of W students came out to lead the sessions, creating a great way to celebrate Earth Day Month and experience the environment.

Second Graders will be working on the hillside near the playground with Parks Department folks on April 28, learning about the erosion caused by young TOPS feet running up and down the hill. They will also be spreading bark to try and revive the hill... Mary C. has been seen outside, preparing her 4th grade Zone’s planting beds near the parking lot…and a first grader was recently overheard saying, “I love stewardship!!”

SECOND GRADE POETRY FESTIVAL IS A SUCCESS

By Riley Calcagno, Grade 2

On Tuesday April 4, Carla and Julie’s second graders put on a spectacular Poetry Festival for Leslie and Sarah’s first graders! Mrs. Scott and many second grade parents and grandparents also attended the festival in the TOPS cafeteria.

All second graders worked extremely hard for a month choosing and memorizing their poems to prepare for the Poetry Festival. Some kids even came in before school to practice presenting their poems. In class we rehearsed our poems in front of each other.

Some kids presented funny poems like “I’m Getting Eaten by a Boa Constrictor,” recited by Spencer Cook and “I’ve Lost My Head,” recited by Brian Tamura. Gabriella Kimmerly did “Falling Up” and Maggie Malone recited “A Messy Room,” both by Shel Silverstein. I presented “You Can’t Make Me Eat That,” by Jack Prelutsky. Other poems were more serious like Langston Hughes’ “A Dream Deferred,” presented by Sam Flaxman, and “To Meet Mr. Lincoln” by Eve Merriam, which was recited by Conor Courtney. Emma Simonson presented “Winter and Spring,” by Coventry Patmore.

Everybody did a great job and had a good time!

Editor’s Note: The first grade classes presented their poems on Thursday, April 6. The second graders were sorry to miss this event due to an SCT conflict!
A LITTLE AUCTION HISTORY*

By Toby Harris, TOPS parent since 1993

No dinner, no alcohol, 8th graders running around but not really helping – all in the rundown old TOPS gym! This was the first TOPS auction in the spring of 1992. The gym was located in the same place as the current lunchroom, but did it have big beautiful windows showing off the view? No way! The school closed for remodeling at the end of the 1997-98 year.

After a couple of years at the gym, the movers and shakers decided we needed a larger and better space. Balloons on the gym ceiling just didn’t cut it. The auction was moved to the Center for Urban Horticulture and we got spaghetti. One of those early leaders was Penny Bolton, whom I’m told directed the first auction, made a lot of pinwheel sandwiches, and wore a flapper costume! During those early years, $10,000 was considered a great success!

After a few years at the Center for Urban Horticulture and having to use extra tents for the silent auction items, we moved on to an even bigger site, the Asian Resource Center. We’ve been there for 10 years now! At first, there was no stage. Suddenly one year, the volunteers showed up to set up and surprise…there was a stage there. Eighth graders and TOPS alumni have been our servers off and on for several years. They’ve done a great job, and their parents and teachers love to be served by them. Well, there was that one year that no volunteer servers showed up and it became unplanned buffet style, but most years it all went smoothly.

Class projects became popular early on, pitting one student’s parent against another, in their zeal for the beautiful quilt, chair, tablecloth, or bowl that their child helped create. Teacher and Principal outings have also brought many bidders. TOPS t-shirts were sold at every auction until just a few years ago. I’m told they’re making a comeback this year! If your family has an old TOPS t-shirt, consider donating it to the TOPS Archives.

Ted Johnson (TOPS parent until last year) kept us laughing throughout the 1990s as the announcer/stand-up comic, and his sidekick for the last 5 years or so has been auctioneer, Steve Hardy. Jay Pickering (TOPS parent) will be on sabbatical this year from his role for many years as “Vanna”, showing off the incredible kid projects and vacations we can spend our money on. He always has many willing assistants as well. I would love to list all of the many other contributors over the years but my list is embarrassingly incomplete! All of you out there who have kept this auction successful for TOPS: our deepest gratitude goes out to you! And keep it up!

*Accuracy is not guaranteed. This article was based on almost no written information. Instead, I relied on conversations with Rhian Lombard, Carol White, Tammy Lathy, and a message from Penny Bolton.

DON’T THROW AWAY YOUR TOPS MEMORIES…DONATE THEM TO THE TOPS ARCHIVES.

Don, Eric, and volunteer coaches provide an outstanding program for our Middle School students.

Next year, we can also look forward to some exciting new programs in our building. First, the Building Leadership Team worked diligently through the budget process this year and figured out a way to create a new position of Reading Specialist to mastermind our reading program at all grade levels. We are pleased to announce that second grade teacher, Carla Fetterley, has agreed to take on the challenge of this new position. Also new next year will be a second Deaf and Hard-of-Hearing program, one that is a “total communication” program specializing in the use of American Sign Language. (Our existing program concentrates on use of Signing Exact English.) Cindy Beck, Kelly Hampton, and Seth Ziegler, the first-rate staff who comprise this program, are moving from their long-time location at View Ridge Elementary.

We also have the opportunity to rearrange some of our grade level teams in order to continue to play to various teachers’ strengths. Tracy Seefeld will be moving to take over Carla’s classroom in second grade (she taught second grade previously for several years at TOPS), and Leslie Nilan will be taking over Tracy’s position in third grade.

Finally, Mary Chao, who has done so much to set the standard for fourth grade at TOPS, will be rising to take over the fifth grade position. We are very grateful to these teachers for the dedication they have shown in taking on these new challenges, and we look forward to great things to come from the strong teams they will be building with their new partners. With these changes in place, we are now assembling hiring teams to interview candidates for first and fourth grade openings, and we expect to have made those appointments in the next few weeks.

The Elementary Play is the weekend of May 19 and 20, with an evening performance each night at 7:00 p.m. Our ArtFest is Friday, May 19 and begins at 5:30 p.m. A lot of time and energy goes into both of these very special events.

There are more camps coming up and other exciting year-end activities. We still have one-quarter of the academic year to go, and much work to do. Our fifth graders are preparing themselves for middle school and our eighth graders are preparing to say good-bye to a wonderful home many of them have had for nine years.

Cheers!

~Clara

101 DALMATIANS COMING TO TOPS

Don’t miss the elementary play! We are producing 101 Dalmatians, with the complete original score. Performances are May 19 and 20 at 7:00. In a loving home in the city of London, Dalmatian parents, Pongo and Perdita, happily raise their Dalmatian puppies, until the monstrous Cruella De Vil plots to steal them for her new fur coat! Join all the dogs of London, as they daringly rescue the puppies from Cruella and her bumbling henchmen.
We have been busy creating art all year for our ArtFest showcase on May 19, 2006. Drop in anytime from 5:30 p.m. to 9:00 p.m. to view art from Grades 1-8, in the library. We promise to dazzle you!

Show dates - from May 19-31

A MONTHLY CALENDAR OF HOLIDAYS
WHAT TOPS FAMILIES ARE CELEBRATING

Compiled by Lynne Goodrich, CSJ member

MAY IS ASIAN/PACIFIC AMERICAN HERITAGE MONTH

Asian Pacific American Heritage month was enacted on October 28, 1992. The purpose of the law was to honor the achievements of Asian/Pacific Americans and to recognize their contributions to the United States.

MAY 2006 HOLIDAYS

May 1: May Day Spring festival celebrating human fertility and the renewal of nature. The festival originated with the celebration of the Roman Goddess Flora. May Day was especially popular in England during medieval times.

May 3: Yom Ha’Atzma’Ut (Israel) Israeli Independence Day. Celebrates the declaration of the state of Israel by David Ben Gurion in Tel Aviv on May 14, 1948.

May 9: National Teacher’s Day (United States) An Arkansas teacher, Mattye Whyte Woodbridge, began corresponding with political and educational leaders as early as 1944 about the need for a national day honoring teachers. One of the leaders she wrote to was Eleanor Roosevelt, who persuaded Congress to proclaim a National Teacher’s Day in 1953.

May 5: Cinco De Mayo (Mexico) Commemorates the May 5, 1862 defeat of French colonial forces at the city of Puebla. Cinco de Mayo is celebrated with food, music, and dancing. Sometimes confused with Mexican Independence Day (September 16, 1810).

May 14: Mother’s Day (United States, Mexico) Festivals honoring mothers can be traced back to the Greek celebration honoring Rhea, the Mother of Gods. In the United States, Julia Ward Howe held Mother’s Day meetings in Boston in 1872 dedicated to peace. Later Anna Jarvis and then her daughter began efforts for a Mother’s Day holiday dedicated to healing families torn by the Civil War. Mother’s Day became an official holiday in 1914.

May 19: Malcolm X Day (United States) Celebrates the birth of Malcolm X on May 19, 1925. He became one of the most outspoken and popular leaders of the black nationalist movement in the 1960’s. He established the Organization of Afro-American Unity. Initially a supporter of black separatism, he later modified those views to embrace world unity. Members of a rival organization assassinated him in Harlem on February 21, 1965.

May 20: Armed Forces Day (United States) A day to salute the men and women in all branches of the military for the service and sacrifices they perform.

May 23: Declaration of the Bab (Baha’i) In 1844 a young Persian merchant named Siyyid Ali-Muhammad shared a Divine Revelation that spiritual renewal rested on “love and compassion” rather than “force and coercion.” His announcement attracted thousands of followers. He took the name “Bab” which means “Gate” or “Door” in Arabic. The theme of his major work the Bayan, was that there would be an appearance of a second Messenger from God whose mission was to usher in the age of peace and justice. The largest Baha’i communities are in South Asia, Africa, Latin America, and the Pacific Islands.

May 29: Memorial Day (United States) First observed in 1868 to honor Civil War dead. Now commemorates all lives lost in war.

VIDEO PRODUCTION CLASS

By Sam Heft-Luthy, Grade 6

This year, there’s a new after school activity at TOPS: Video Production classes. There are two sessions, one for both of the semesters. The class meets every Tuesday and gives the participants some time to get together and discuss ideas for their latest video and edit the material they have. Not much shooting happens on the meeting day, people rather get shots after school, during lunch, or at home. You get a chance to come up with ideas for, write a script for, be the cinematographer for, direct and even edit your own original movie! The second session has already begun, so there isn’t really time to sign up this year. If you want to see what you can do next year, the TOPS Film Festival is a showcase of all the videos that students like you have made. It’s on June 13th, so you better not miss it!
Fun At Camp Orkila

By Maya Suzumura, Grade 5

The 5th graders went to camp Orkila in March. We stayed for 2 nights. The food was good. We slept in open air cabins without electricity.

We had lots of activities — some scary and some fun. My favorites were survival block and the beach walk.

The saddest thing was that Riley got sick and had to go home early. I hope Riley can stay for the whole camp next year.
FIRST GRADE EXPERIMENTS WITH BALLS AND RAMPS

By Leslie Nilan, 1st grade teacher

From January through March, the first graders experimented with balls that varied in size, color, weight, and texture. They observed and recorded how the different balls rolled and bounced. They planned and executed “fair tests” to determine best bouncer and best roller, then discussed what properties of the balls affected these results. Ramps were introduced near the end of the unit before the culmination lesson of making a ramp system of their own design.

The final project for our Balls and Ramps Science unit was a great lesson in physics and teamwork. The assignment was to work in groups to create a ramp system for balls. Here’s a look at the work of some of our future engineers, inventors and... project managers.

PE MEMORIES

By Anonymous, Grade 8

I have been at TOPS for nine long years, have gone through nine grades, and at least nine teachers, but with all this change there has also been a constant other than the people in my class. Don and Eric have always been there ready to brighten our days and horse around in PE while learning the fundamentals of many sports.

With all of this time spent in the PE class at TOPS, I have collected many memories, but the earliest has to be from the first grade when we were first learning a routine of stretches we would keep pretty much for the rest of our years at TOPS. We had already gone through v-stretch, butterfly, and the like, and had gotten on to the bridge. Of course, being ignorant and quite full-of-it six year-olds, we were all sure we had it right and thought it was something like the stance you would take if you were doing the “crab walk.” Boy we had a lot to learn, but there was Don, walking between the “squads” and helping us get it just right in the most pleasant of ways.

Then there was fourth grade, when all of the girls thought all of the guys were making too much trouble and goofing off too much all the time. We would go to the gym, do our stretches and be ready to play a game, when some little boy would come and be overjoyed to see how upset he could make us by hitting us with a ball, or knocking us down. We hadn’t any reason to worry though, because there was big, strong Eric ready to toss whoever was at fault over his shoulder and spin them around, or deal with the problem in the coolest way our ten year-old minds could think of.

Even now, I am still quite lucky that after all these years, I still have Don there coming to our volleyball games and helping us figure out the secrets of creating a good movie, and know that if I am ever down in the dumps, I can walk into the gym, and be greeted by one of Eric’s famous “Wussup’s.” When so many things change from year to year and day to day, it has always been great to know that the good times in PE will never change.

Thank you Don and Eric!

By Shelby Goff, Grade 6

Middle school TOPICS are one of the most enjoyable activities available at TOPS. Some of the topics this year were hikes, bike rides, chess, and boating to name a few. The topic I chose this time was Don’s topic where I learned to row at the George Pocock Memorial Rowing Center.

The George Pocock Rowing Center is not very far from TOPS. It is just down the road from the Eastlake Red Robin so walking there was a piece of cake. When we got there we met an Olympic athlete who was part of the US Rowing team in Athens, Greece, and two rowers from the University of Washington women’s rowing team as well as the Center’s instructors.

After introductions we watched two Olympic rowing competitions from the Athens Olympics and got to ask questions about rowing, the Olympics, and what it’s like to be a world class and college rower.

Next we were given a tour by our different rowing instructors. We went to the garage area where the rowing shells are kept. There were two types of rowing shells, the scull, and the sweeper. We learned that the boats were layered with fiber glass and about the boats that could hold a certain number of people. There is not much of a difference between the scull and the sweeper except for the fact that sculling boats had two oars per person and the sweepers had only one oar per person. The boats both look pretty similar. They are unusually skinny and the rowers sit in these sliding seats which allow the rower to use their whole body.

After the tour of the garage, we went upstairs and learned how to row properly on the ergs (rowing machines) and then went out on Lake Union on their training barge in an effort to try and actually row together. It wasn’t very much fun for some of us because a large motor boat zipped past us going faster than the speed limit and sent a huge wave toward the rowing barge and flooded half of it (my half!). Next, we took a break for lunch. After lunch we went out onto the lake again and were much more successful rowing in unison.

We then had to head back to TOPS. This was a lot of fun and a great opportunity to learn something new. I think Don should take students to do this more often because it’s hard work, but it still felt very satisfying. If anybody is interested in checking out the George Pocock Rowing Center this summer you can get information about their summer programs on the TOPS website under “summer activities.”
